What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product until 23 September 2020. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because the Issuer and the Guarantor are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 7 out of 7, which is the highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a very high level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact the capacity of the Issuer and the Guarantor to pay you. To the extent the currency of the country in which you purchase this product or the account to which payments on this product are credited differs from the product currency, please be aware of the currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment. If the Issuer and the Guarantor are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 4 months, under different scenarios, assuming that you invest EUR 10,000. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. The recommended holding period for this product is less than one year. The figures are not calculated per year, but for the recommended holding period. Figures in this section and “What are the costs?” are not comparable with figures on products with a different recommended holding period. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where the Issuer and the Guarantor are not able to pay you. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

What happens if Vontobel Financial Products GmbH is unable to pay out?

You are exposed to the risk that the Issuer and the Guarantor might be unable to fulfil their obligations in respect of the product and the guarantee – e.g. in the event of insolvency (inability to pay / over-indebtedness) or an administrative order of resolution measures. In case of a crisis the Guarantor such an order can also be issued by a resolution authority in the run-up of an insolvency proceeding. Thereby the resolution authority has extensive intervention powers. Among other things, it can reduce rights of the investors to zero, terminate the guarantee or convert it into shares of the Guarantor and suspend rights of the investors.

A total loss of your capital invested is possible. The product is a debt instrument and as such is not covered by any deposit protection scheme.

What are the costs?

Costs over time

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs. The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself. The figures assume you invest EUR 10,000.00. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

The person selling you or advising you about this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs, and show you the impact that all costs will have on your investment over time.

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

Recommended Holding Period: until 23 September 2020 (maturity)

It is not possible to individually recommend a holding period. Due to the leverage the product reacts to smallest price movements of the Underlying leading to losses or profits within unpredictable time periods. Any individual recommendation regarding the holding period would be misleading information for a speculative investor. For investors purchasing the product for hedging purposes the holding period depends on the hedging horizon of the individual investor. The redemption described in section “What is this product?” above only applies if the product is held until maturity. The product does not provide for an early termination or exercise right of the investor. Therefore, investors should be prepared to stay invested for the term of the product. The only possibility to cash in the product earlier is by selling the product through the exchange where the product is listed or outside of such exchange.

A sale of the product may in particular not be possible under exceptional market circumstances or in case of technical disruptions. If you sell the product before its maturity, you may receive back less than if you had kept the product until maturity.
